

Bristow & Sutor Win Nottinghamshire County Parking Contract

October 2009: Nottinghamshire County Council has appointed Bristow & Sutor under a framework agreement to provide bailiff services the collection of Civil Parking Enforcement Penalty Charge Notices (PCNs). The contract is valid for a period of 4 years.

The contract will be made available to the District and Borough Councils within Nottinghamshire. In addition, it is also possible the Derbyshire County Council, District and Borough Councils within Derbyshire and other public authorities in the wider East Midlands region will also utilise the contract to pursue registered debts against PCNs.

Andy Rose, Managing Director commented, "This is yet another significant Parking contract win for Bristow & Sutor, and compliments existing PCN collection and our bailiff activity across the Midlands. Bristow & Sutor already provides bailiff services to 6 of the 8 councils in Nottinghamshire, and 5 of the councils in Derbyshire. We are confident that this appointment will go a long way to providing a consistent approach to bailiff activity across the region. We look forward to supporting the Council and their needs."
