

Toner Recycling Benefits Charity

April 2004: Staff at Bristow & Sutor based in Redditch helped raise over £31,000 last year for The Royal National Institute of the Blind charity by simply donating laser jet toner cartridges.

The money was raised when the company sent used toner cartridges to The Recycling Appeal UK, a scheme that converts the cartridges into cash for nominated charities. Eurosource Europe is the specialist organisation behind the Recycling Appeal. The scheme has been able to raise over £31,000 for the charity which offers information, support and advice to over two million people with sight problems in the United Kingdom. Funds raised help contribute to the £15 needed to pay for an audio described video of a film that children can enjoy with their sighted friends, £25 helps provide a Talking Book to one of the 48,000 members whilst £50 helps someone re-learn life skills at a rehabilitation centre.

Bristow & Sutor has given over 700 cartridges since 2000, which would have otherwise have ended up in landfill sites.

“This is a two-in-one effort. We support the environment by going green and we raise funds for charity at the same time. Recycling is an easy way of giving something back to the environment. In our case it combines two requirements, it protects the environment from harmful waste and raises funds for worthy causes,” said Andy Rose Managing Director Bristow & Sutor.
